Terms and Conditions: Although the upmost care will be taken with your film. We cannot accept responsibility for your Film being lost in the post on either journey, to or from you. Also we cannot accept responsibility for film being damaged as a result of the scanning process, although unlikely, film may be damaged if it has perished or degraded. When using the Automated Dust Removal and/or Noise Reduction service, we cannot guarantee quality. Using the Automated Dust Removal service takes all image quality control away from the operator; which could lead to blurred details in the image, severely reducing quality which may reduce customer satisfaction. We cannot guarantee that all dust will be removed from scanned image. We cannot bring into focus any images that were out of focus at the time of capture, we can only sharpen details within the image.
